

TEAM PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

This Team Performance Assessment is designed to create an objective discussion about team performance during the course of doing the artifacts in CS 191 Software Engineering 1. It helps team members work out how well they are working at the moment and identify the areas they want to address to help them perform better in the implementation, test and release of the software (CS 192 Software Engineering 2).

This assessment has four areas of concentration in terms of team performance, namely,:

Purpose and Shared Direction. A team that has a shared understanding of what they are trying to achieve, why and what success looks like, produces best outcomes. They show the way and model right behaviors- both in terms of direction and how people behave and work together.

Result-oriented. A team pays attention to the things that matter and their proper direction. They make tough calls and consciously divide their time and stay focused on their joint goals.

Joint Accountability. A team's members take responsibility for their own part in delivering the team's goals and helping others to achieve them. Failing to deliver or letting others down is not OK.

Team relationships. Everyone treats each other with respect, is open on uncomfortable issues and takes time to understand others' needs. It's OK to admit mistakes and weaknesses.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- 1.) Use the descriptions below to score your personal assessment of the way that your team worked together. For each statement, give a rating from 0 to 4.
- 2.) Share your individual assessment with other team member to come up with an overall team assessment, calculating the average score for each category.
- 3.) The team should reflect on the results and develop an action plan to improve overall effectiveness in working together in the implementation and testing phase.

1	We have a clear and shared understanding of what we are trying to achieve.
2	We do what we say we will do.
3	We take time to understand each other's needs and concerns in each new situation.

Having reviewed your groups answers and data, reflect and write down the team's thoughts in response to the following questions:

What are the key strengths of the team that you want to acknowledge and build upon? We acknowledge our ability to adapt to each other's schedules and plan our team's actions accordingly.	Why is this important? We believe our group treats efficacy and consistency as our core values, and as such, give much importance to our individual schedules so efficiency will not be a hindrance.
What are the key areas you does the team want to focus to enhance the performance of the team? We would like to focus our efforts in allocating more time to physically meet up in order to work on our project more effectively together as a team, more often.	Why is this important? Physical meetings allow us to easily and more freely exchange thoughts and ideas regarding the project, and perform internal testing more effectively.

Where will the team start?

We as a team will make sure to inform the group of possible times we can physically meet up so we can help each other with our individual tasks (to avoid deadlocks in the development process).

Enhancing team performance can take time- often there's a mix of changing what you do and how you do it. Look at the key areas for your team. What concrete steps will help the team move forward to CS 192 Software Engineering?

We will make sure to set aside some time for developing our project, even little by little, so we can avoid rushing the functionalities near the deadline.

Previous Velocity: 42

Current Velocity: 55

What can the group say about the group's performance based on the team's velocity? Will you increase or decrease your velocity? Why?

We have properly increased our sprint velocity to compensate for the server-side integrations. We plan on continuing the next sprint at about the same velocity in order to catch up on the remaining functionalities.
